WESTMINSTER, November 24.

THIS day his Majesty came to the house of Peers, and being in his royal robes, seated on the throne with the usual solemnity, Sir Francis Molineux, Knight, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from his Majesty to the house of Commons, commanding their attendance in the house of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I HAVE chosen to call you together at this season of the year, that my parliament might have full time for deliberation upon all such branches of the public service as may require their immediate attention, without the necessity of continuing the session beyond the time most suitable to my people for the election of a new parliament: and I doubt not, but you will be careful, from the same considerations, to avoid, in your proceedings, all unnecessary delay.

Nothing in the present situation of affairs abroad gives me reason to apprehend, that you will be prevented, by any interruption of the public tranquility, from fixing your whole attention upon such points as concern the internal welfare and prosperity of my people.

Among those objects of a domestic nature, none can demand a more speedy or more serious attention, than what regards the high price of corn, which, neither the salutary laws passed in the last session of parliament, nor the produce of the late harvest, have yet been able so far to reduce, as to give sufficient relief to the distresses of the poorer sort of my people. Your late residence in your several counties must have enabled you to judge, whether any farther provision can be made, conducive to the attainment of so desirable an end.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I will order the proper officers to lay before you the estimates for the service of the ensuing year.

The experience I have had of your constant readiness to grant me all such supplies as should be found necessary, for the security, interest, and honour of the nation, (and I have no other to ask of you) renders it unnecessary for me to add any exhortations upon this head; and I doubt not, but the same public considerations will induce you to persevere with equal alacrity, in your endeavours to diminish the national debt; while, on my part, no care shall be wanting to contribute, as far as possible, to the attainment of that most essential object, by every frugal application of such supplies as you shall grant.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The necessity of improving the present general tranquility to the great purpose of maintaining the strength, the reputation, and the prosperity of this country, ought to be ever before your eyes. To render your deliberations for that purpose successful, endeavour to cultivate a spirit of harmony among yourselves. My concurrence in whatever will promote the happiness of my people, you may always depend upon: and in this light, I shall ever be desirous of encouraging an union among all those who wish well to their country.

Naples, October 27. Last week has exhibited repeated scenes of horror, the eruption of Mount Vesuvius having continued with great violence: many fine vineyards are destroyed, and some villas; but his Sicilian Majesty's palace, and the museum of Portici have escaped, by the lava's taking another course, which it was within a mile and a half of them. The concussions of the air from the explosions of the mountain were so violent on Monday and Tuesday nights, and on Thursday noon, that many doors and windows, even at Naples, were forced open by them. The explosions and concussions of the air were most terrible on Thursday. We observed, that the noise generally continued, each time, between five and six hours, and then ceased as suddenly as it began. The stones thrown up by these explosions were of an enormous size, and were thrown between five and six hundred feet high, and many of them fell more than half a mile from the Crater. The clouds which issued from the mouth of the volcano, and hung over it, striking one against the other, occasioned continued flashes of forked lightning, the thunder of which was heard when the mountain was silent.

The mountain is now calm, and the lavas no longer run. This eruption is universally allowed to be the most violent that has happened this century, both as to loudness of the explosions, which were heard above thirty miles from Naples, and to the quantity of lava. It is impossible to describe the confusion this capital has been in four weeks past.

London November, 16. An Evening paper of Saturday last, says, application is making at a certain great board, to obtain a grant of very large possessions in the North of England, through the influence of the F——ts, for the benefit of one of his own family, under pretence of reviving the rights of the C——, notwithstanding such possessions having been enjoyed for a long course of years, by families who have invariably distinguished themselves by their steady adherence to government, on the principles of the revolution. But from the patriotic and equitable sentiments of the noble D—e, who worthily presides at that board, there is every reason to believe, that an attempt of so malevolent and alarming a nature will prove abortive.

November 17. They write from Jamaica, that between four and five hundred ship carpenters had lately been landed at the Havana, from Old Spain, to be employed in the construction of several men of war upon the stocks.

Yesterday there was a great board of treasury at the Cockpit, Whitehall, on affairs of great importance.

November 19. Wednesday morning an express arrived from his excellency Henry William Lyttelton, Esq; ambassador, at the court of Portugal.

The honourable James Hewit, one of his majesty's judges of the court of King's bench, is appointed lord Chancellor of Ireland, in the room of lord Chancellor Bowes deceased.

November 21. We are assured from a correspondent at Bath, that lord Chatham continues very indifferent, and is neither seen by, nor receives messages from any body.

'Tis said that the expediency of public granaries, will be considered in the very first meeting of the new parliament.

The duke de Nivernois, Preceptor to the Dauphin, has obtained his majesty's leave to travel with his royal pupil to all the maritime parts of France; and preparations are making at Brest, Toulon, Rochelle, Rochfort, and every sea-port and harbour, to receive so royal a visitor.

November 23. Some agreeable advices are said to have been received on Friday, from Sir James Gray, Bart. ambassador at the court of Spain.

It is certain that the present patriotic ministry have, during the recess of parliament, employed agents of proper understanding in husbandry, to visit the several corn counties in this kingdom, and to report the quantity and quality of the different sorts of grain: The consideration of which will be the immediate business of the meeting of a certain August assembly.

'Tis thought the ensuing parliament will be short. The last session of the foregoing parliament ended March 19, and two days after it was dissolved by proclamation.

The distressed poor, with hearts full of gratitude present their most sincere thanks, and humble duty to Mr. Patterson, and beg leave to acquaint him, that since provisions have been so high, their families have found great benefit in the opportunity they have had in making use of rice for their food; but being under the greatest apprehensions that the heavy duty with which in a few days this necessary article is to be charged, will once more occasion it to be advanced beyond their reach of purchasing it, unless the free importation be continued for a further time;—Wherefore they humbly submit it to the humanity of the worthy gentlemen of the committee at Guildhall, their taking this matter into their serious consideration in the petition intended to be presented to parliament.

London, November 24. Letters from Dublin mention, that an entertainment was given on account of the Marquis of Kildare, on the 9th instant, at the Rotunda in the New Gardens there, of which the following is the bill of fare, viz.

One hundred rounds of beef; 100 neats tongues; 1000 sheeps ditto; 100 baked pies; 100 sirloins of beef; 100 geese roasted; 100 turkies ditto; 100 ducks ditto; 100 pullets ditto; 100 wild-fowl; 1000 French loaves; 1000 large prints of butter; 3000 cups and saucers; 100 weight of Gloucester cheese; tea, coffee, and chocolate, in abundance; 1000 saffron cakes; 4000 plain ditto; 50 hams; 1500 bottles of wine; and a most splendid and large pyramid of sweetmeats in the middle of the desert in the centre of the room; likewise a great number of stands of jelly, and a curious fountain playing, handsomely ornamented with ivy, &c. Such an elegant, grand, and plentiful morning entertainment was never seen in that kingdom, nor perhaps in Europe; besides a vast profusion of the best tea, coffee, and chocolate, and buttered white wine, served from silver tea-kitchens lying upon all the tables in the center of that room; on long tables all round the said room, and in the cells within the walls, were pieces of roast beef, fowls, pies, &c. with a great variety of wines, a bottle of one kind or other to every plate.

We are assured from authentic intelligence, that No. 3379, drawn on Thursday last a prize of 20,000l. is the property of Mr. Alder, a cooper, at Abingdon in Berks. A neighbour had wanted to purchase one half of the ticket of him, for which the cooper demanded 8l. 4s. but the former offering no more than 8l. the bargain luckily broke off to the great advantage of the seller. When the broker of whom he had purchased it got down there, he broke the matter to him very cautiously, raising his information by degrees, from 20l. to 20,000l. which last circumstance the poor cooper bore prettily well, though not without some appearance of shock and trembling. His wife considered it, for a good while, as a joke, but being at last convinced of the reality of her good fortune, she produced the ticket, pinned up in a piece of brown paper, in an open drawer, and delivered it to her husband, in order to be put in better custody. The broker who sold the ticket came to town from Abingdon on Saturday, with it horses finely decorated with ribbons, &c. at the expence of the proprietor; all the bells in the town were set a ringing; he elegantly entertained the broker, called in his neighbours, promised to assist this with a capital sum, that with another, gave away plenty of liquor, and vowed to lend a poor cobler (his old penny customer) money to buy so much leather as to stock his stall so full that he should not be able to get into it to work; he promised the broker 100l. and to buy a new coach for the coachman who brought down the ticket, whose horses he likewise decorated with ribbons. Mr. Alder in sixty years of age, and has grand-children. To prevent further effects which such an unexpected piece of good luck might have upon a mind not prepared to receive it, and likewise to free the cooper from the importunities of the mob, a neighbour has very humanely taken him a little tour into the country, from whence he is to come up to London——He has already been very liberal to the poor, and given orders for two oxen to be bought, and five quarters of wheat to be made into bread, and distributed among the poor housekeepers of that place.

November 25. The four city representatives, and Mr. Patterson, were instructed to use their interest in parliament, to obtain a continuance of rice imported duty free.

They write from Leghorn, that General Paoli had encamped before Calvi with 7000 men, and a large train of artillery, well supplied with foreign engineers; being resolved, if possible, to take the place before the arrival of any fresh auxiliary troops from France.

Paris, November 13. By a general enumeration of the inhabitants of this kingdom, made in the present year, by the Abbe d'Expilly, it appears, that France actually contains 22,014,357 persons, of all ages, sexes, and conditions. The inhabitants of Paris are computed at no more than 600,000 persons.

London, November 26. Yesterday the right hon. the house of Peers, preceded by the lord chancellor, waited on his majesty at St. James's with their address of thanks for his most gracious speech from the throne, on opening the sessions; to which he returned a most gracious answer.

By letters from Brest, it is asserted, that the Ocean, of 70 guns, with three frigates and two storeships, are ordered to get ready for sailing early in the spring, upon a discovery of the North-West passage, the command of which is given to commodore D'Avenant, who in the beginning of last war, was a commander in the East-Indies.

Yesterday there was a numerous levee at St. James's, and afterwards a privy council, at which the grand officers of state assisted; said to be relative to some dispatches received from the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

One day last week a great mob arose at Kidderminster, in Worcestershire, to the number of near 2000, who obliged the farmers to sell their wheat at 5s. a bushel which before was sold at 7s. and at the same time obliged them to sell their butter for 6d. a pound, which before was sold at 8d. They all paid for the wheat they had, and went home very peaceably.

London, Dec. 8. They write from Spain, that peasants are daily arrested there, and especially churchmen, among whom is one of the King's almoners.

The citizens of Geneva seem not to depart in the least from the firmness which they have hitherto maintained. In a paper lately signed by them, they persist in all their claims and demands, resolving to be buried under the ruins of their country, rather than submit to conditions which they think repugnant to the spirit of their constitutional laws.

It was whispered yesterday that a celebrated motion, intended to be made in a certain assembly, is postponed till after holidays.

Dec. 10. An arrest of council was published on the 14th last, at Paris, in which his most Christian Majesty orders the payment of the Canada paper money, to the parties mentioned in a list annexed.

Dec. 12. This week a number of artificers in the steel, copper, and cast-iron branches, have been engaged, on great encouragement, to embark for New-England.

We are told from Birmingham, that within this month past, upwards of 300 workmen have been discarded for want of business.

Letters from France advise, that great alterations are going to be made in the system finances and commerce of that kingdom, and that frequent meetings of the ministry are held upon that account.

By letters from Leghorn, we are informed, that according to a list published there, it appears the whole number of jesuits transported from different parts of Spain to Corsica, amounts to 2310.

The third settlement, a good house, and good indico land round it.

At the same time and place, will be sold;

CHARLES-TOWN, February 8.

THE Distresses of the poor in Great-Britain, from the villainous monopoly, and consequent excessive dearness of Provisions) notwithstanding the great crops made, and large importations last year) have been so great, as to raise apprehensions of terrible consequences, which the wisdom of the British legislature has prevented by passing, so soon after its meeting, the under-mentioned acts:

From the LONDON GAZETTE,

WESTMINSTER Dec. 7.

THIS day his Majesty came to the house of peers. The commons being come thither. His Majesty was pleased to give the royal assent to

"An act to continue and amend an act "made and passed in the last session of parliament to prohibit, for a limited time, the "exportation of corn, grain, meal, malt, "flour, bread, biscuit, and starch, and also "the extraction of low wines and spirits "from wheat and wheat flour.

"An act to continue several acts made in "the last session of parliament, for allowing "the importation of wheat, wheat-flour, "barley, barley meal, pulse, oats, oat meal, "rye, and rye meal, duty free; and also so "much of an act as relates to the free importation of RICE from his Majesty's colonies in North-America; and to allow the "importation of wheat and wheat flour, "from Africa, for a limited time, free of "duty."

We have often seen it asserted in the British, and some of the American papers, that the court of Spain had ceded its part of the island of Hispaniola to France, for an equivalent; of fleets, troops, &c. to be sent to take off from of the part said to be ceded; of many improvements, new regulations, &c. intended, and those assertions have been repeated, uncontradicted, for more than three years: 'Tis therefore high time to undeceive the public, by affuring them, that they have all been equally void of foundation.

We are informed by Capt. Peacock, just arrived from Georgia, that last friday night Mr. William Lyford's new large and commodious pilot-boat was stolen and carried to sea, from Cockspur, as supposed, by the carpenter, boatswain and a foremastman of a ship that lay there, and a Spanish negro belonging to said Lyford; of which more particulars will hereafter be given.—In the mean time, the Public is entreated to take notice of this general intimation, so as to stop the villains and pilot-boat, should they put into any inlet or port on the continent, or in the West-Indies.

Since our last, Sixty fail of veſſels have arrived here, twenty-five of which came in in one day (chiefly from Europe, and after tedious paſſages; being above double the number that ever arrived here before in one week.

In this fleet are come, Major Thomas Wiltmore and Enſign Goodere, of His Majeſty's 9th regiment;—Mr. Alexander Roſs, Mr. William Michie, Mr. John Jamieſon, Mr. Thomas Bugle, merchants;—Miſter Oliphant, and other paſſengers. Alſo,

Mr. Bowen, who introduced the manufacture of Sago, Vermicelli, Salop and Soy, into Georgia, for which he received a medal from the ſociety for the encouragement of arts in London, and, we hear, has obtained a royal patent to import the ſame into Great-Britain free of duties.

Of the veſſels arrived ſince our laſt, the Jenifer, Kerr, was bound for Maryland, and having been 16 weeks at ſea, put in here for proviſions, &c.—the Vaughan, Davis, was bound for Boſton, and put in very leaky;—ſhe and the King George, Finglaſs, was bound for New-York.

Capt. John Williamſon, of the Brigt. Loyalty, from London, fell overboard at ſea, about four weeks ago, and was drowned.

The Brigt. Lord Dungannon, has brought in about 120, and the Snow Betty Greg, 150 more, paſſengers, from the North of Ireland, to ſettle in this province upon the bounty.

The Snow Tryton, of Liverpool, John Anderſon maſter, from Madera, bound for New York, was ſpoke with, all well on board, the 27th paſt, in lat. 30 N. and long. 74 W. by Capt. Martin of the Brigt. Eliz. both from Dundee.

On Tueſday laſt, at Newmarket Courſe, the following horſes, &c. ſtarted for the plate, weight for age, and came in as follows:

William Henry Drayton, Eſq.'s bay colt PARTHIAN, got by Brunſwick, 7 ſtone 1 lb.	1	1
Mr. William Cattell's horſe HAVANA, carrying 8 ſtone 3 lb.	2	2
Samuel Elliott, Eſq.'s bay horſe HARPOCRATES, (formerly Lord Chatham) (not Gen. Oglethorpe's dolphin, as mentioned in our laſt), carrying 10 ſtone by paſture breeding, was	ſet.

A great deal of money was betted on this race; but the knowing ones gave it to Partian, in ſpite of Havana's endeavours to win.

On Wedneſday the Colts Plate was run for, on the ſame courſe, and won by Mr. Jonah Atchiſon's bay colt TYRALL, got by Cade,

Edward Fenwicke, Eſq.'s bay colt FORMOSA (late) gelding BRUTUS,	2	2
Mr. James Ravenell's colt TRUE BLUE, got by Searling,	3	3
Benjamin Elliott, Eſq.'s brown colt JULIUS CÆSAR, got by Patroah. And	diſtanced.
William Williamſon, Eſq.'s cheſnut filly, got by Cade, were both	Odd like ill Bear.

Foreſter was the favourite, and the friends of Brutus were taken in.

Looby did not ſtart till the afternoon, and then for the Sweepſtake, but was diſtanced.

On Monday next, being the 29th of February, a match will be run between Daſhalle and Shadow, at Newmarket, the beſt of 3 two-mile heats, for 95 l. a ſide, to ſtart at eleven in the forenoon. Both are aged, and to carry equal weights.

The match is intended for the firſt of March, for 500 l. currency a ſide, between Hoſier and Second, the beſt of 3 three-mile heats, weight 8 ſtone each, if dropped by conſent of the parties.

Laſt Tueſday James Nabit (a Mulatto) convicted of Petit-larceny, at the laſt ſeſſions, was puniſhed by whipt; purſuant to his ſentence; and to-morrow is to receive a ſecond flagellation.

Wedneſday next is the day appointed for the execution of George Burns, Thomas Grey, Arthur Sykes, convicted at the laſt, and Ephraim Jones, condemned at a former ſeſſions, for robbing Mr. Scott.

PRICE CURRENT the ſame as laſt week.
